

Curriculum Vitae

Bennie Jenkins

Ms. Jenkins taught Business and Career classes in Houston Independent School District for 30 years retiring in June 2007. She has been an adjunct employee in Business Technology Department of HCCS since August 2003. Ms. Jenkins has taught Computer Applications, Keyboarding, and Medical Coding, and Spreadsheet Applications.

Bennie Jenkins received her Master of Arts Degree in Clinical Psychology from Texas Southern University in 1996 and her Bachelor of Arts in Business Education from Prairie View A & M University in 1975. Her honors include Who's Who in American High School Teachers, Outstanding Young Education, a number of Teacher of Year awards, Outstanding Career and Technology Educator – HISD, Distinguished Educator Award, and Outstanding Teacher Mentor.

Ms. Jenkins is MOS (Microsoft Office Specialist) certified and proud to be a part of the highly recognized Accreditation Council of Business School Programs with Houston Community College System, Business Technology Department. In addition, Ms. Jenkins also has various current certifications in other business technology skills developments. She also actively participates yearly in continuing education courses to keep abreast with new and changing technology.

Ms. Jenkins believes that education is the key to success along with developing proficiency in computer skills, as well as good human relations emphasizing team interaction. Ms. Jenkins is an active participant in VIPS (Volunteers in Public Schools) at Jack Yates Senior High School giving back to her community and helping to develop young minds for adult leadership, citizenship, and success. She is also a member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc.

Contact Information

Bennie.jenkins@hccs.edu

