Course Overview

ARTS 1301 is a general introduction to the visual arts designed to create an appreciation of the vocabulary, media, techniques, and purposes of the creative process. Students will critically interpret and evaluate works of art within formal, cultural, and historical contexts (ACGM).

Core Curriculum Objectives (CCOs)

ARTS 1301 satisfies the creative arts requirement in the HCCS core curriculum. The HCCS Visual Art Program Committee has specified that the course address the following core objectives:

Critical Thinking: [HCC: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry and analysis, synthesis of information]

Art Appreciation is an investigation and analysis of the styles and modes of artistic production from prehistoric times to our own. Through the study of artistic media, universal themes are explored, and students will develop an appreciation for the creative process as one that represents an evolving synthesis of cultural, personal, and technological influences. Assessment of critical thinking in course work will count for no less than 10% of the final grade.

Communication Skills: [HCC: to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral, and visual communication]

Art Appreciation students will learn to interpret the language of visual communication through the study of selected artworks and creation of their own hands-on art project. Students will demonstrate effective writing skills as they fulfill instructor specific writing assignments. In addition, students will develop verbal communication skills as they participate in discussions, critiques and presentations throughout the semester. Assessment of verbal and written communication in course work will count for no less than 10% of the final grade and may be combined with other core assignments.

Teamwork: [HCC: to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal]

In Art Appreciation courses we use discussions, critiques, group assignments and hands-on art projects to analyze artistic production within various cultures and time periods. This exploration of culture through art allows students to connect with a variety of viewpoints and then exchange viewpoints with others. Students will demonstrate their ability to work effectively with others in class as they safely and responsibly manage shared media, tools, equipment and clean-up duties, as applicable. Each semester students will participate in at least one collaborative assignment designed to expand their experience in developing skills essential to working effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal. Assessment of teamwork activities and assignments will count for no less than 10% of the final grade and may be combined with other core assignments.

Social Responsibility: [HCC: to include intercultural competency, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities]

By its very nature Art Appreciation is intercultural. As a subject it explores various historical, political, economic, theological, sociological, and ethnic contexts. Using this framework, students consider the community's responsibility in such issues as art destruction/defacement and restoration, art acquisition and public display, public funding of art and censorship. Students observe current events and how they influence or change art history, as new discoveries may change our perception about art. Students make use of the local art community (including museums, galleries, etc.) to augment their knowledge of and participation in their community. Assessment of social responsibility activities and assignments will count for no less than 10% of the final grade and may be combined with other core assignments.

Student Success

Expect to spend at least three hours logged into the class, each week, examining course content. Additional time will be required (dependent upon your knowledge & skill-set) to complete assignments and activities featured within each Module.

Successful completion of this course requires a combination of the following:

- Weekly Attendance (Log-In a minimum of 2x per week; once early during the week)
- Frequently Viewing E-Mail Messages, Course Announcements & Course Calendar
- Be Familiar With "Start Here" Module Contents & Completing "Start Here" Quiz
- Reading Course Module Content, Textbook and/or Online Sources
- Creating, Researching, Writing About, and Discussing the Visual Arts
- Be familiar with Academic Writing and Research methods, as well as use formal writing to complete assignments, discuss course topics, and to correspond with students or instructor (i.e.: do not use texting language, encryptions, slang, foreign language...)
- Submitting Assignments (in requested format & required location) By Due Dates/Times
- Actively Participating With Discussion Forums
- Using the "Chat" room to seek assistance from peers (if and when necessary)
- Contacting Instructor Well-In-Advance of Scheduled Assignment Due Dates/Times (if and when necessary)
- Monitor Individual Course Progress & Keep Copies Of All Material Related to Course
- Maintain a Good Attitude & Time-Management Skills!

Since this is a project-based course, assignments and discussion forums are designed to facilitate learning and application of course material. You will demonstrate what you have learned by completing assignments, as well as participating with discussion forums. There isn't a short cut for success in this course; it requires reading (as well as researching) course material. You are expected to learn concepts featured in this course so that you can successfully complete assignments, as well as effectively participate with discussion forums.

Good time-management skills are also imperative for successful completion of any course; particularly within an online course format. Due to the nature of this course format, I do not accept late work; instead, an extra-credit opportunity is offered at the beginning of the semester (refer to online course content materials for details).

I also take plagiarism very seriously—submit your own, original ideas, in your own words, or you will receive a zero on projects, discussion forums, and/or possibly even fail the course. I can't tell what you've learned if you use someone else's work. Tip: Never copy and paste information, from online, directly into your document. Take research notes and then use this material to compose a typed document using your own words, thoughts, and ideas, then appropriately cite your sources. Use quotations, sparingly, in order to enhance your document. Refer to this online course, as well as the following HCCS Library Link, for further details: http://library.hccs.edu/research_writing/plagiarism

- Provide a clear description of projects or assignments
- Inform students of policies such as attendance, withdrawal, tardiness and make up work
- Provide the course outline and class calendar which will include a description of any special projects or assignments

- Be aware of, and comply with, academic honesty policies featured in the HCCS Student Handbook

Assignments, Exams, and Activities

Written Assignment

Since this is a project-based course, most of the class will be completed through written assignments. You will complete at least 2000 words in a combination of written assignments over the course of the semester. Your grammar and spelling are important therefore obtain assistance from an HCCS tutor if needed.

Additional requirements for Honors students:

Honors students will write an additional 2,000 words. They will complete a project or oral presentation that shows a higher level of analytical thinking and satisfies the requirement of the honors contract

Exams

Since this course is project-based, only one exam is featured – the “Start Here Quiz”. This multiple-choice online quiz is featured in the “Start Here” section of the course and due prior to 11:00 pm (Central Time Zone), January 26, 2020 in order to remain in the course. Refer to details about this quiz within the online course located at Eagle Online Canvas.

Methods of Assessment/Evaluation may include: hands-on art projects, tests and quizzes which may include: definitions, matching, multiple choice, true/false, short answer, essay, lists; writing assignments, discussions and/or critiques; written papers including critiques, essays, analyses, reviews, research, comparing and contrasting artistic or design theories and art historical perspectives; service learning projects; presentations; group and/or individual projects; other methods as may be determined by individual instructors.

Class Activities

There are 4 Modules located within this course (not including the “Start Here” section at the beginning of the course). Each Module contains learning objectives, course content, assignment and/or activities (along with instructions & rubrics), as well as discussion forums.

Throughout the Semester you will work independently, as well as collaboratively, to complete assignments and activities.

You are expected to complete Modules sequentially (“Start Here” then Module’s 1,2,3,4) during assigned weeks of the semester so that you can learn course content and submit assignments by scheduled due dates/times. Since Module One content is necessary to complete assignments for Module Two (and so on and so forth) it is highly suggested that you don’t attempt to “skip” Modules. By doing so, you will have a very hard time completing particular assignments, as well as lose points.

Missed assignments/activities/discussions do not receive points. Assignments, quizzes, and discussions are not accepted late! Refer to the Course Calendar, as well as online course, for details. For successful time-management, plan on completing and/or submitting assignments prior to designated due dates. If you choose to submit an assignment on scheduled due dates, I highly suggest submitting no later than 9:00 pm. If you are experiencing technical difficulties, it is highly suggested that you contact the HCCS Help Desk well-in-advance of assignment scheduled due dates/times. Due to the nature of this course, accommodations are not granted for human and/or computer errors, vacation or work schedules, personal issues or illnesses. A student requesting an extension or Incomplete in the course must contact the Dean of Visual Arts for approval due to certain school regulations and/or official documentation that must be filed.

Final Exam

Since this course is project-based, there isn't a Final Exam. Instead, students are issued a final project featured in Module 4. Refer to Course Calendar as well as Module 4 online course contents for details.

To compute grade point average (GPA), divide the total grade points by the total number of semester hours attempted. The grades "IP", "W", "AUD", "COM" and "I" do not affect GPA.

The grade of "I" (Incomplete) is conditional. A student receiving an "I" must arrange with the instructor to complete the course work within six months of the end of the incomplete term. After the deadline, the "I" becomes an "F." Upon completion of the coursework, the grade will be entered as I/grade on the student transcript. All "I"s must be changed to grades prior to graduation.

In all cases, the instructor reserves the right to decline a student's request to receive a grade of Incomplete.

The instructor reserves the right to modify the syllabus at any time during the semester and will promptly notify students in writing, typically by e-mail, of any such changes.

Instructor's Practices and Procedures

Missed Assignments

Late or make-up work is not accepted in this course. It's the student's responsibility to ensure that exams, assignments, activities, and discussion forums are completed and submitted (within designated assignment drop box and/or discussion forum locations) by scheduled due dates & designated times. It's also the student's responsibility to contact instructor, well-in-advance of scheduled due dates, if they don't understand what is expected of them for an exam, assignment, activity, or discussion forum featured in this course. Students who do not submit assignments in appropriate format, designated drop boxes, and/or by scheduled due dates & time, will not earn points - which can result in a lower point total, being withdrawn from, or failing the course.

Student must provide instructor with official documentation from the HCCS Ability Support Service Office for an extension or modification of an assignment or exam (well in advance of assignment or exam due date). Instructor approval of documentation must be granted prior to issuing or accepting an extension or modification of an assignment. All work must be completed prior to end of term. If you are experiencing a serious issue that inhibits you from actively participating with this course, it's best to discuss your situation with the Dean of the Visual Arts Department. Dependent upon circumstances, you might be able to obtain either a "W" or Incomplete in the course - but be aware that there are strict rules concerning this chosen course of action, often requiring official documentation and approval by the Dean.

File Format Requirements:

For all attached documents submitted with assignments, students are expected to adhere to the following requirements:

1. Eagle Online/Canvas accepts only the following file formats:
 - a. .pdf, .rtf, .doc or docx, .ppt or .pptx, .jpeg
 - b. Documents submitted in an alternate format are not accepted due to program constraints. Students will be notified if, and when, Canvas accepts alternate file formats.
2. If I can't open your assignment document, or it is not the accurate document, you will not earn points! Please review your submissions immediately upon upload.
3. Upload PDF files: You should create pdf documents for uniformity, accessibility and security purposes. Since you can't change pdf files once created, it's best to first create your documents in a text editor (such as Microsoft Office Word), then convert to a .pdf file.
4. Requested File Format for Assignments (Due to Course Record Management Issues):
 - a. Art1301-15842_Last Name, First Name_Mod.#Assignment.pdf (or rtf, doc, docx, ppt, pptx...)
 - b. Example for Module Assignment: Art1301-15842_Smith, J. Mod#1 Assignment.pdf (or rtf, doc, docx, ppt, pptx)
 - c. Example for Module Assignment: Art1301-15842_Jones,S_ Mod#2 Assignment.pdf (or rtf, doc, docx, ppt, pptx).

- d. Example for Discussion Forum: Art 1301-15842_Smith,J. Mod#1DF.pdf (or rtf, doc, docx, ppt, pptx)
 - e. Example for Discussion Forum: Art 1301-15842_Jones,S._Mod#3DF.pdf (or rtf, doc, docx, ppt, pptx)
 - f. Include a Header (Class Number, Your Name, Mod. Number & Assignment Title, Date) and Page Numbers
5. Create typed documents with 10, 11, or 12 Point Times New Roman Font/Font Size & 1" margins max. (College Required)
 6. Use MLA Style parenthetical citations within document and/or MLA Footnote or Endnote format with all assignments (MLA is an easier format and discourages plagiarism). Include MLA Style Bibliography with all assignments - can be placed at the end of your document and should contain academic resource information, along with activated URL addresses, so that you don't plagiarize and everyone can access your research materials! Resource: http://library.hccs.edu/research_writing/plagiarism
 7. Include clearly identified visual images for each visual example presented in your document: identify artist/culture, title, date, media, location, and activated URL address where you found each visual image - so you don't plagiarize and everyone can view your examples! If using the Canvas "Flickr" stock images, program allows user to type information under "attributes" when opening chosen image. Even if you find an image in a course textbook, you must include the image within your typed or posted document.
 8. When attaching digital photographs within an Eagle Online Canvas text box, be certain to only attach formats that Canvas allows within its program.
 9. If I can't access an activated (hyperlinked) URL Address and/or visual imagery, you will lose, or not earn, points on an assignment.

Additional Course Requirements:

1. Recommended (not required) Textbook: A World of Art, 8th Edition, Henry Sayre, Pearson/Prentice Hall, 2016 or Gateways to Art, 2nd Edition, Thames and Hudson, 2015.
 - a. A textbook is recommended (not required) at the beginning of the semester when classes begin, particularly if you are unfamiliar with Visual Arts vocabulary, concepts, ideas, and historical styles
 - b. Visit HCCS Bookstore, Local Bookstore, Library, or Eagle Online Course for ordering course textbook.
 - c. If you decide not to obtain course textbook, it's your responsibility to obtain accurate course information featured online (refer to instructor's material, academic educational online resources, as well as cite sources that you've consulted for each course assignment and/or discussion forum).
 - d. Be aware that online material might not include specific content featured in the course and/or course textbook, thus you may lose points on an assignment or discussion for inaccurate information.
 - e. We are not using publishers' ancillary material, although it's an option for students - at a price (you'll need to purchase course codes/new textbook through the publisher...)
2. Art Supplies: A fun hands-on art project is featured in this course. Students are responsible for purchasing necessary supplies (approximately $10.00 - $20.00). Supply list is published within correlating Module.

3. Digital or Cell Phone Camera: Students are responsible for electronically uploading digital images and/or original photographs (inserted into requested format file documents (pdf, rtf, doc, docx, ppt, pptx...) or attached as jpeg files within assignment drop box. Students may need access to an electronic scanner, program, or service to scan imagery and convert images into a digital format for this course – often available at HCCS computer or library labs.

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to be familiar with the College's Policy on Academic Honesty, found in the catalog and student handbook. Penalties and/or disciplinary proceedings may be initiated by College System officials against a student accused of scholastic dishonesty. "Scholastic dishonesty" includes, but is not limited to: cheating on a test, plagiarism, and collusion. Cheating on a test includes:

- Copying from another student's test paper;
- Using materials during a test that are not authorized by the person giving the test;
- Collaborating with another student during a test without authority;
- Knowingly using, buying, selling, transporting, or soliciting in whole or part the contents of a test that has not been administered;
- Bribing another person to obtain a test that is to be administered.

Plagiarism means the appropriation of another's work and the unacknowledged incorporation of that work in one's own written work offered for credit. Collusion means the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing written work offered for credit.

Violations: Possible punishments for academic dishonesty may include a grade of "0" or "F" on the assignment, failure in the course, and/or recommendation for probation or dismissal from the College System. A recommendation for suspension or expulsion will be referred to the College Dean of Student Development for disciplinary disposition.

Attendance Procedures

Log in a minimum of two times, per week. I highly suggest doing so at the beginning of the week in order to review Course Announcements, as well as course Module content – including assignment, quiz, and discussion forum directions. This way, if you have a question about the material or expectations, you'll have ample time to contact your instructor for clarification if necessary – prior to schedule due dates/times.

Although it's your responsibility to drop a course for non-attendance, the instructor has the authority to drop you for excessive lengths of time without attendance and/or participation and/or missing quizzes, assignments, activities, or discussion forums. Any student who does not complete the "Start Here Quiz" (featured within the course & due prior to the end of the first week of the term) will automatically be withdrawn from the course. Any student who is not actively pursuing the course, and/or doesn't submit assignments by scheduled due date/times, and/or doesn't complete assignments in their entirety, and/or doesn't submit assignments within appropriately designated drop boxes, and/or doesn't participate with discussion forums can be withdrawn from, receive a low grade, or fail the course.

Student Conduct

Students are responsible for conducting themselves with honor and integrity in fulfilling course requirements. This includes maintaining a professional demeanor while communicating and working with both your fellow students and instructor – on all assignments, discussions, and correspondence. Students are expected to adhere to Netiquette, Academic Writing, and Research guidelines featured in this Eagle Online version of the course - for all assignments and correspondence with instructor, as well as peers enrolled in the course. Failure to maintain a professional demeanor can result in receiving zero points on an assignment or withdrawal from the course.
