What's Exciting About This Course

This is one of the more important moments in our nation's history to enroll in a government or political science college course. Please review President Joe Biden's Memorial Day remarks <https://www.theguardian.com/us-news/2021/may/31/joe-biden-memorial-day-speech-warns-democracy-in-peril> (<https://www.theguardian.com/us-news/2021/may/31/joe-biden-memorial-day-speech-warns-democracy-in-peril>), as he articulates the intensity of our current existential crisis. As Benjamin Franklin said, "It's a Republic, if you can keep it."

The State of Texas is challenging our Enlightenment values and our expectations of state and local government. In this recent legislative session, our sacred rights regarding expression, voting, and personal autonomy were undermined. The pressure to conform has not been so compelling since the 1970s and the future of many of our institutions such as education, medicine, and fundamental rights are in jeopardy.

This course transfers to all Texas college institutions to satisfy the required three hours of state government when successfully completed.

My Personal Welcome

Welcome to the course! I am completing my thirty-second year as a college professor. I am one of the few instructors in the HCCS Government Department to have worked in the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government and taught Texas and Federal Government. I have worked in television and radio news. It is my honor to bring both practical and academic experience to your course.

Course Overview

Course Description

Origin and development of the Texas constitution, structure and powers of state and local government, federalism and intergovernmental relations, political participation, the election process, public policy, and the political culture of Texas. Core Curriculum Course.

Requisites

Students must have passed ENGL 1301 (Composition I) or be co-enrolled in ENGL 1301 as a corequisite.

Government Department Website

<https://www.hccs.edu/programs/areas-of-study/social-behavioral-sciences/government/>

Core Curriculum Objectives (CCOs)

This course satisfies part of the Government/Political Science requirement in the HCCS core curriculum. The HCCS Government Discipline Committee has specified that the course addresses the following core objectives:

- Critical Thinking Skills—to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information
- Communication Skills—to include effective development, interpretation, and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication

- Empirical/Quantitative Skills—to include manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions
- Teamwork—to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal
- Personal Responsibility—to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making
- Social Responsibility—to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities

Student Learning Outcomes and Objectives

Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLOs)

- Define and relate critical course concepts to contemporary issues in government and politics.
- Describe and assess the importance of civic engagement in the representative democratic structures of national, state, or local governments.
- Evaluate different kinds of data used in the study of government and politics.
- Articulate their own positions on contemporary issues in government and politics.

Course Student Learning Outcomes (CSLOs)

Upon completion of GOVT 2306, students will be able to:

- Explain the origin and development of the Texas constitution.
- Describe state and local political systems and their relationship with the federal government.
- Describe separation of powers and checks and balances in both theory and practice in Texas.
- Demonstrate knowledge of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of Texas government.
- Evaluate the role of public opinion, interest groups, and political parties in Texas.
- Analyze the state and local election process.
- Identify the rights and responsibilities of citizens.
- Analyze issues, policies, and political culture of Texas.

Departmental Practices and Procedures

The study of government and politics engages students with practices and issues that generate conflict. In light of the nature of the class you are enrolled in, it is important to understand that what you learn may challenge some of your beliefs. This kind of intellectual stretch is at the heart of higher education. Though some of your beliefs may be challenged, only you can decide to retain or change them. Consider the following quote from Rogers Smith, past president of the American Political Science Association :

"[A]ny political science teaching worthy of the name must examine controversial political matters and must present unpopular views concerning those subjects. The more teaching about politics is done by teachers who feel themselves to be in highly vulnerable positions, wary of offending taxpayers, governmental officials, or corporate donors, the more likely it is that political science teaching will be done in ways that simply canvass conventional perspectives, rather than promoting wide-ranging critical reflection and deeper public understanding of important political concerns."

Written Assignment	25% of the total grade-- This assignment is mandatory and the grade will not be dropped.	Texas & Critical Race Theory	Due July 1 We will examine House Bill 3979, which bans "critical race theory" and forbids high school educators from discussing certain viewpoints in the classroom including the theory that some people are "inherently racist, sexist, or oppressive, whether consciously or unconsciously." Supporters said it would keep politics out of schools, while opponents said the measure — one of many sweeping GOP legislatures across the country — seeks to "whitewash" lessons about slavery and discrimination in America. Our essay will discuss the issue and how it impacts Texas classrooms.
Final Exam	25%	Texas Courts & Criminal Justice System	July 7-8 Chapters 5 & 12 The exam materials cover the Texas civil and criminal court system. The final exam is simply the last exam over the final unit. It is not comprehensive and does not include any previously tested material.
Extra Credit			There is absolutely no extra credit in this course. Classes are given abundant time to take exams, and numerous opportunities to take each exam. Exams are open note, open book, with provided lecture notes and worksheet/study guides. There is no need for extra credit under those generous conditions.

Grading Formula

Grade	Range	Notes
A	90-100
B	89-80	Should a student earn a 89.4 that is a B. Should a student earn a 89.5 that is an A. No exceptions, no requests to "bump" a letter grade.
C	79-70
D	69-60
F	59 and below

* Instructor's Practices and Procedures

Incomplete Policy

In order to receive a grade of Incomplete ("I"), a student must have completed at least 85% of the work in the course. In order to receive an Incomplete a student must submit paperwork in support of their reason for requesting an incomplete. A legitimate medical excuse, a catastrophic event, substantial change in financial situation such as homelessness or any documented valid excuse must be presented. In all cases, the instructor reserves the right to decline a student's request to receive a grade of Incomplete.

Missed Assignments/Make-Up Policy

There are no make up exams. Students are given two days for exams and three attempts at reaching a satisfactory grade. Late research papers are not accepted without 10 point penalties for every day that the paper is late.

Academic Integrity

Scholastic Dishonesty will result in a referral to the Dean of Student Services. Cheating or plagiarism is not acceptable. Any suspected incidents of cheating--like taking tests together in the same room at the same time with the same answers, and yes, I can tell on the computer if you are working together--you can have a conversation with the Dean of Student Services.

Here's the link to the HCC information about academic integrity (Scholastic Dishonesty and Violation of Academic Scholastic Dishonesty and Grievance):

Attendance Procedures

On line, anytime students should log in daily for announcements and any changes to the schedule. I will take attendance from your log ins.

Student Conduct

Be nice, mature students.

I have a law degree but I am not your lawyer. I am not licensed in Texas. I cannot give you legal advice, even hypothetically. I have a Master's degree in political science and my undergraduate degree is in foreign service. I was educated in the former Soviet Union in 1983. I have worked in the Texas Legislature and for the Texas Attorney General. I have worked in the courts on civil and criminal matters. I have been a trial assistant in state and federal court and clerked at one of the more prestigious law firms in the nation. I have been involved in landmark federal and state trials. I have worked on local, state, and national political campaigns. I am an expert in Texas and federal government and on the Kennedy assassination. So I do indeed know my field intimately. My husband, John Ben Sutter, is an expert in government and has been in Washington, D.C. and Austin. He is an expert in campaign press and media and is also a professor at HCCS.

It would help you in the course to read a newspaper and watch television news. We are going to talk about current events as they relate to government and politics.

Instructor's Course-Specific Information

Exams are open note, open book. If you use your worksheets and read the provided materials you can do well in the course. It depends on taking good notes so you are prepared for the exams. I test straight from the worksheets. Not everything is in the book and you need to use Google.com to find the topics discussed on the Internet.

When you approach the worksheet study guides you should attempt to do more than define the term. You want to research the "Who, What, When, Why, Where, and How" of a topic or key term. Write about it as if you are teaching it to someone you know. If you take notes on it you will find the significance of the term and that is where the test question is likely found.

Download the study guides. Use them as Microsoft Word documents and put your notes on the study guide. It will make a difference in your reading and study habits.

If you have questions, please ask. You don't submit the studyguide worksheets for a grade. They are your notes for your exam.

Devices

It is important that you have a good working, up to date computer and Internet capabilities. Should your Internet cease working during an exam, there is no method for proving that assertion. In other words, if your Internet and electricity shuts down during an exam, I have no way of knowing if this is the case. Internet disruptions are not excuses for incomplete exams--you are not allowed to suggest or imply problems with the Internet is the reason you could not complete or submit an exam or coursework such as your research essay. Use your sense. If it is storming do not take an exam. Do not wait until the last minute to submit an exam or essay. Pay attention to the weather situation.

If you anticipate problems with connections, use the campus computers. If you are taking this exam outside the United States and do not have reliable Internet access, you need to adjust so that you can submit exams and essays on time and not allow extraneous situations--electric access, weather, shelling, bombs, etc. to delay your situation. If you are studying abroad please tell me now rather than tell me that you couldn't take your exam because your city was being shelled. If you are aboard a military ship or on a military installation, please let me know ahead of time. Do not wait until a problem arises because I am not sitting in front of the computer awaiting your email. I can't help you immediately. Tell me of your anticipated problems now. Anticipate them and respond to the challenges you may experience.

Faculty Statement about Student Success

First, we do not meet face to face, but there are lecture videos that can help you.

Second, read your assignments.

Third, take notes on work sheets / study guides.

Fourth, ask questions.

Fifth, take your exams on time. Submit your essay on time.

Take yourself seriously. Take your work seriously.

Specific Information Regarding Canvas

This course section will use Canvas (<https://eagleonline.hccs.edu> (<https://eagleonline.hccs.edu>)) to supplement in-class assignments, exams, and activities.

HCCS Open Lab locations may be used to access the Internet and Canvas. For best performance, Canvas should be used on the current or first previous major release of Chrome, Firefox, Edge, or Safari. Because it's built using web standards, Canvas runs on Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS, Android, or any other device with a modern web browser.

Canvas only requires an operating system that can run the latest compatible web browsers. Your computer operating system should be kept up to date with the latest recommended security updates and upgrades.

Do not attempt to take the course or do course work on your smartphone. Do not take exams on your smartphone. The phone's operating system will not accommodate all the visual information you need to successfully complete the course.

Instructional Modalities

On line, anytime.

We do not meet in person on campus.

Social Justice Statement

Houston Community College is committed to furthering the cause of social justice in our community and beyond. HCC does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, gender identity and expression, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status. I fully support that commitment and, as such, will work to maintain a positive learning environment based upon open communication, mutual respect, and non-discrimination. In this course, we share in the creation and maintenance of a positive and safe learning environment. Part of this process includes acknowledging and embracing the differences among us in order to establish and reinforce that each one of us matters. I appreciate your suggestions about how to best maintain this environment of respect. If you experience any type of discrimination, please contact me and/or the Office of Institutional Equity at 713-718-8271.

Ability Services

HCC strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including long and short term conditions, mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please meet with a campus Abilities Counselor as soon as possible in order to establish reasonable accommodations. Reasonable accommodations are established through an interactive process between you, your instructor(s) and Ability Services. It is the policy and practice of HCC to create inclusive and accessible learning environments consistent with federal and state law. For more information, please go to <https://www.hccs.edu/support-services/ability-services/> (<https://www.hccs.edu/support-services/ability-services/>)

Title IX

Houston Community College is committed to cultivating an environment free from inappropriate conduct of a sexual or gender-based nature including sex discrimination, sexual assault, sexual harassment, and sexual violence. Sex discrimination includes all forms of sexual and gender-based misconduct and violates an individual's fundamental rights and personal dignity. Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex-including pregnancy and parental status in educational programs and activities. If you require an accommodation due to pregnancy please contact an Abilities Services Counselor. The Director of EEO/Compliance is designated as the Title IX Coordinator and Section 504 Coordinator. All inquiries concerning HCC policies, compliance with applicable laws, statutes, and regulations (such as Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504), and complaints may be directed to:

Student Success

Expect to spend at least twice as many hours per week outside of class as you do in class studying the course content.

Additional time will be required for written assignments. The assignments provided will help you use your study hours wisely.

Successful completion of this course requires a combination of the following:

- Reading the textbook
- Attending class in person and/or online
- Completing assignments
- Participating in class activities

There is no short cut for success in this course; it requires reading (and probably re-reading) and studying the material using the course objectives as a guide.

Canvas Learning Management System

Canvas is HCC's Learning Management System (LMS), and can be accessed at the following URL:

Instructor and Student Responsibilities

As your Instructor, it is my responsibility to:

- Provide the grading scale and detailed grading formula explaining how student grades are to be derived
- Facilitate an effective learning environment through learner-centered instructional techniques
- Provide a description of any special projects or assignments
- Inform students of policies such as attendance, withdrawal, tardiness, and making up assignments
- Provide the course outline and class calendar that will include a description of any special projects or assignments
- Arrange to meet with individual students during office hours, and before and after class as required

As a student, it is your responsibility to:

- Attend class in person and/or online
- Participate actively by reviewing course material, interacting with classmates, and responding promptly in your communication with me
- Read and comprehend the textbook
- Complete the required assignments and exams
- Ask for help when there is a question or problem
- Keep copies of all paperwork, including this syllabus, handouts, and all assignments
- Be aware of and comply with academic honesty policies in the HCCS Student Handbook (<http://www.hccs.edu/resources-for/current-students/student-handbook/>)

EGLS3

The EGLS³ (Evaluation for Greater Learning Student Survey System (<http://www.hccs.edu/resources-for/current-students/egls3-evaluate-your-professors/>)) will be available for most courses near the end of the term until finals start. This brief survey will give invaluable information to your faculty about their teaching. Results are anonymous and will be available to faculty and division chairs after the end of the term. EGLS³ surveys are only available for the Fall and Spring semesters. -EGLS3 surveys are not offered during the Summer semester due to logistical constraints.

Housing and Food Assistance for Students

Any student who faces challenges securing their foods or housing and believes this may affect their performance in the course is urged to contact the Dean of Students at their college for support. Furthermore, please notify the professor if you are comfortable in doing so.

This will enable HCC to provide any resources that HCC may possess.

Student Resources

Tutoring

HCC provides free, confidential, and convenient academic support, including writing critiques, to HCC students in an online environment and on campus. Tutoring is provided by HCC personnel in order to ensure that it is contextual and appropriate. Visit the HCC Tutoring Services \(http://www.hccs.edu/resources-for/current-students/tutoring/\) website for services provided.

Libraries

The HCC Library System consists of 9 libraries and 6 Electronic Resource Centers (ERCs) that are inviting places to study and collaborate on projects. Librarians are available both at the libraries and online to show you how to locate and use the resources you need. The libraries maintain a large selection of electronic resources as well as collections of books, magazines, newspapers, and audiovisual materials. The portal to all libraries' resources and services is the HCCS library web page at <http://library.hccs.edu> (<http://library.hccs.edu/>).

Supplementary Instruction

Supplemental Instruction is an academic enrichment and support program that uses peer-assisted study sessions to improve student retention and success in historically difficult courses. Peer Support is provided by students who have already succeeded in completion of the specified course, and who earned a grade of A or B. Find details at <http://www.hccs.edu/resources-for/current-students/supplemental-instruction/> (<http://www.hccs.edu/resources-for/current-students/supplemental-instruction/>).

Additional Information

Departmental/Program Information

The Houston Community College Government Department supports students in a number of different ways. These include:

- Government Majors & Minors: Students can earn an Associate of Arts Degree in Government, which will prepare them for majoring in Political Science or Government when they transfer to a university. Majors and Minors—those students who are interested in Political Science or Government—are supported by a faculty committee that will connect them to events, news, and opportunities.
- Careers in Government: The study of Government or Political Science prepares students for work in the public and private sectors by emphasizing critical thinking, analytical, and communication skills.
- Government Student Organizations: The Government Department supports the activities of the Center for Civic Engagement and the HCC Political Science Club, both of which hold discussions and sponsor events to connect students to politics in the real world.
- GOVT Scholarship: The Government Department will work with students to locate scholarship support, when possible.

Process for Expressing Concerns about the Course
