Welcome and Instructor Information

I'm Dr. Lamont Rodgers and I will be your instructor for this online section of Introduction to Philosophy. As soon as Houston Community College makes Canvas available for you, you should login and have a look at the site. Specifically, look at the syllabus. Everything you need to know about policies and deadlines is on there. There are no textbooks to buy. All of the course material is provided in Canvas.

Since we do not meet in person and I cannot give you the more direct instruction a face-to-face course offers, you will need to do a lot of work to be successful in this course. You must work through the readings, practice questions, and videos. There are lots of short Gateway Quizzes that you may take as many times as you like. If you simply click on answers until you get a full score, you will not learn the material. I want you to be aware of this. There is nothing I can do to help you, if you do not put a lot of time into this course.

Please see our syllabus for the specific course policies. Remember that there are deadlines for this course. They are on the syllabus. I do not put the deadlines on specific assignments. That is a waste of time as students are able and obligated to read the syllabus.

I never offer extensions and I never accept technological excuses. If your internet fails and you cannot complete an assignment, that is not an excuse in this course. I say all this not to be mean or to scare you away, but so that you know that this is a serious course that requires serious work. If you have doubts about your ability to do the work and meet the deadlines, you might allocate your time and money in a course that better fits your current situation.

The way to approach the course is as follows. Click on 'Modules' on the left side of our Canvas page. Then, just go through the module one page at a time. I have a lot of information in there to help you perform well on our quizzes and exams. If you ever have a question about any of our material, do not hesitate to contact me. The earlier you contact me, the more likely it is that I will be able to help you. You may also use the open forum to ask your questions. Sometimes your classmates will be better suited to answer questions than I am. I know the philosophy stuff, but I don't always know what kinds of issues college students might have. The open forum is for you to address concerns or questions to everyone. I will answer questions in there, of course. However, others might do it better than I do.

If you need to meet with me or talk to me, just let me know. I can set up a meeting through Canvas. My email address is lamont.rodgers@hccs.edu. My office phone is 713-718-5598, but email is the best way to get in touch with me. Here's to a good semester!

What's Exciting About This Course

This course is exciting because it is an introduction to the basic tools of philosophy. These tools can be used in all fields. Philosophy majors tend to do very well on the SAT, GRE, and LSAT.

Course Overview

Course Description

A philosophical reflection of the basic principles of the moral life, including traditional and contemporary views concerning the nature of goodness, happiness, duty, and freedom as they apply to individual right, business, medicine, and community well-being. This course satisfies the Language, Philosophy and Culture or Component Area Option of the HCC core.

Requisites

English 1302 or Department Approval

Department Website

<https://www.hccs.edu/programs/areas-of-study/liberal-arts-humanities--education/philosophy/>

Core Curriculum Objectives (CCOs)

This course satisfies the Philosophy, Language, and Culture component area or the Component Area Option in the HCC Core Curriculum.

- Critical Thinking: Students will demonstrate the ability to engage in inquiry and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information, and creative thinking by completing a written assignment such as a book report, research paper, or essay.
- Communication Skills: Students will demonstrate effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral, and visual communication by completing a written assignment such as a book report, research paper, or essay.
- Personal Responsibility: Students will demonstrate the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making.
- Social Responsibility: Students will demonstrate cultural self-awareness, intercultural competency, civil knowledge, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities by completing textbook reading assignments, completing assignments, and answering questions on quizzes and exams that pertain to Course Student Learning Outcome #4 below.

Student Learning Outcomes and Objectives

Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLOs)

1. Demonstrate knowledge and an understanding of arguments, problems, and terminology in philosophy.
2. Analyze and critique philosophical texts in ways that demonstrate an awareness of argument structure and the evaluation of philosophical claims.

3. Present logically persuasive arguments orally and in writing that are relevant to philosophical issues covered in course material.
4. Evaluate personal and social responsibilities of living in a diverse world in terms of the philosophical issues raised in course material.
5. Apply relevant ethical theories to daily activities, and to issues in contemporary debates.

Course Student Learning Outcomes (CSLOs)

1. Read, analyze, and critique philosophical texts.
2. Define and appropriately use important terms such as relativism, virtue, duty, rights, utilitarianism, natural law, egoism, altruism, autonomy, and care ethics.
3. Demonstrate knowledge of major arguments and problems in ethics.
4. Present and discuss well-reasoned ethical positions in writing.
5. Apply ethical concepts and principles to address moral concerns.
6. Apply course material to various aspects of life.
7. Discuss ways of living responsibly in a world where people have diverse ethical beliefs.

Learning Objectives

- 1.1 Read canonical texts and contemporary articles in the philosophical tradition of ethics.
- 1.2 Analyze, discuss, and critique philosophical texts and ethical questions through open annotation exercises, papers, and discussion forums.
- 1.3 Analyze and critique philosophical texts and practical ethical questions in papers and tests.
- 2.1 Learn basic philosophical vocabulary, major arguments, and positions in philosophical ethics.
- 2.2 Recognize key concepts in regular quizzes.
- 2.3 Demonstrate understanding of key arguments and claims made by philosophers studied in the course through papers and assignments.
- 3 Present logically persuasive arguments in papers and tests.
- 4.1 Engage in critical thinking through discussion forums, papers, and tests.
- 4.2 Demonstrate critical thinking skills in all written work.
- 5.1 Consider the impacts of philosophical ideas on personal and social responsibility in papers and discussion forums.
- 5.2 Apply philosophical concepts discussed in the course to personal and contemporary issues, demonstrating a concern for social and personal responsibility in written work.

Departmental Practices and Procedures

Department Specific Instructor and Student Responsibilities

As your Instructor, it is my responsibility to:

- Provide the grading scale and detailed grading formula explaining how student grades are to be derived
- Facilitate an effective learning environment through learner-centered instructional techniques

- Provide a description of any special projects or assignments
- Inform students of policies such as attendance, withdrawal, tardiness, and making up assignments
- Provide the course outline and class calendar that will include a description of any special projects or assignments
- Arrange to meet with individual students before and/or after class as required

As a student, it is your responsibility to:

- Attend class in person and/or online
- Participate actively by reviewing course material, interacting with classmates, and responding promptly in your communication with me
- Read and comprehend the course material
- Complete the required assignments and exams
- Ask for help when there is a question or problem
- Keep copies of all assignments, this syllabus, handouts
- Be aware of and comply with academic honesty policies in the HCCS Student Handbook

Program-Specific Student Success Information

Attendance, preparedness, participation, and communication are essential for your success in this course. Preparedness and participation include carefully engaging with course material and assignments during course hours and on your own time. Attendance and communication with your instructor and your peers are vital. All of the above will ensure your growth in our community of learners where knowledge and skills are achieved through a process of mutual responsibility and involvement.

Academic Integrity

A student who is academically dishonest is, by definition, not showing that the coursework has been learned, and that student is claiming an advantage not available to other students. The instructor is responsible for measuring each student's individual achievements and also for ensuring that all students participate on a level playing field. Thus, in our system, the instructor has teaching, grading, and enforcing roles. You are expected to be familiar with HCC's policy on Academic Honesty. What that means is that if you are charged with an offense, pleading ignorance of the rules will not help you. To be clear, plagiarism (using another's ideas or words without giving credit), collusion (unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing written work offered for credit), and other forms of cheating will not be tolerated.

Students guilty of academic dishonesty may be given a grade of "F" or "0" for the particular assignment involved, assigned a failing grade in the course for repeated offenses, and/or referred to the Dean of Student Services for further disciplinary action. In extreme cases or for repeated violations, guilty students are recommended for probation or dismissal from the College.

Attendance Policy

HCC Policy is that you can miss up to but not exceed 12.5% of class hours, which is equivalent to 6 hours in this course. If you have not attended class before the official date of record, you will be automatically withdrawn from the course by the registrar. Students who are withdrawn for nonattendance will not be reinstated. Although it is your responsibility to withdraw from a course, the instructor has the authority to withdraw you for excessive absences. You may be withdrawn from a course after accumulating absences in excess of 12.5 percent of the total hours of instruction (6 hours for this course).

You are absent when you:

Online Anytime Courses (WW) - Fail to actively participate (including failure to submit assignments).

Online on a Schedule Courses (WS) – Fail to log in during your scheduled class time and/or fail to actively participate (including failure to submit assignments). Excessive tardies and leaving class early may count towards your allotted absences.

In Person Courses (P) – Fail to attend class. Excessive tardies and leaving class early may count towards your allotted absences.

Hybrid Courses (HY) – Fail to log in and actively participate during your scheduled class time and/or fail to attend your in-person class session. Excessive tardies and leaving class early may count towards your allotted absences.

Incomplete Policy

In order to be considered for a grade of Incomplete ("I"), a student must have completed at least 75% of the coursework with a passing grade. It is the responsibility of the student to make arrangements with the instructor and to submit requisite work to complete the course and be assigned a grade. Student and instructor should execute a statement of work to be completed. A grade of Incomplete which has not been made up after six months from the end of the term in which the "I" was assigned will be converted to an "F." In all cases, the instructor reserves the right to decline a student's request to receive a grade of Incomplete.

Instructional Materials and Resources

Instructional Materials

All material is provided for free in canvas.

Course Requirements

Assignments, Exams, and Activities

15 Gateway Quizzes worth 10 points each. You may take these quizzes as many times as you like by the deadline. Your highest score will be recorded.

3 Exams worth 30 points each. Students may take these exams just one time.

A term paper worth 100 points. This is a 4 to 5 page paper on a topic assigned by the instructor. This paper will be submitted in Canvas. The deadline is on the syllabus. See Module 2 for more details.

Note: Students who either do not submit a term paper on time or submit a plagiarized paper will receive both a zero on the paper and an F in the course. There are no second chances here. Submit a paper on time and write your own paper.

The EGLS survey is worth 20 points. Details to follow

Grading Formula

Grade	Range	Notes
A	270-300
B	240-269
C	210-239
D	180-209
F	<180

Missed Assignments/Make-Up Policy

If there is a legitimate and grave reason for missing class work or exams (death in family, serious illness, hospitalization, deployment) please let me know. You will be allowed to make up the work once documentation is provided.

Often things come up that are beyond our control. If you wait until the last minute to complete your work, there is a greater chance that work, family, computer issues, etc., will create a problem that causes you to miss the assignments. I cannot stress this enough, you will NOT be given an extension for these issues. Work, in particular, will warrant an excuse unless it is due to military deployment.

You must schedule your time appropriately. If you are having computer issues, computers may be used at the HCC campus as well as the public library. Again, missed assignments due to issues with technology will NOT be given an extension.

Academic Integrity

A student who is academically dishonest is, by definition, not showing that the coursework has been learned, and that student is claiming an advantage not available to other students. Attendance Procedures

Since we are asynchronous, attendance will not be directly measured. However, all students must access this course in Canvas before the day of record in order to be counted as attending the course. Further, deadlines are strictly enforced.

Student Conduct

Interactions with classmates and the instructor must be professional and appropriate. Abusive and aggressive emails or the like will be treated as if they occurred in person. This means that inappropriate virtual contact with any member of the HCC community will be subject to the same rules that in-person, on campus interactions are.

Faculty Statement about Student Success

The primary causes of poor performance in my courses are easy to remedy. The first is a failure to meet deadlines. The deadlines are on the syllabus and I will remind you of them in class.

The second is writing a term paper that does not address the specific questions asked in the prompts. We do a writing workshop to address this.

It is in your power to avoid both of these common errors. It is not my responsibility to go beyond the already sufficient efforts I have made to help you avoid these mistakes.

Faculty-Specific Information Regarding Canvas

This course section will use Canvas (<https://eagleonline.hccs.edu> (<https://eagleonline.hccs.edu>)) to supplement in-class assignments, exams, and activities.

HCCS Open Lab locations may be used to access the Internet and Canvas. For best performance, Canvas should be used on the current or first previous major release of Chrome, Firefox, Edge, or Safari. Because it's built using web standards, Canvas runs on Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS, Android, or any other device with a modern web browser.

Canvas only requires an operating system that can run the latest compatible web browsers. Your computer operating system should be kept up to date with the latest recommended security updates and upgrades.

Social Justice Statement

Houston Community College is committed to furthering the cause of justice in our community and beyond. HCC does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, gender identity and expression, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status. I fully support that commitment and, as such, will work to maintain a positive learning environment based upon open communication, mutual respect, and non-discrimination. In this course, we share in the creation and maintenance of a positive and safe learning environment. Part of this process includes acknowledging and embracing the differences among us in order to establish and reinforce that each one of us matters. I appreciate your suggestions about how to best maintain this environment of respect. If you experience any type of unjust discrimination, please contact me and/or the Office of Institutional Equity at 713-718-8271.

Ability Services

HCC strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including long and short term conditions, mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please meet with a campus Abilities Counselor as soon as possible in order to establish reasonable accommodations. Reasonable accommodations are established through an interactive process between you, your instructor(s) and Ability Services. It is the policy and practice of HCC to create inclusive and accessible learning environments consistent with federal and state law. For more information, please go to <https://www.hccs.edu/accessibility> (<https://www.hccs.edu/accessibility>)

Title IX

Houston Community College is committed to cultivating an environment free from inappropriate conduct of a sexual or gender-based nature including sex discrimination, sexual assault, sexual harassment, and sexual violence. Sex discrimination includes all forms of sexual and gender-based misconduct and violates an individual's fundamental rights and personal dignity. Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex-including pregnancy and parental status in educational programs and activities. If you require an accommodation due to pregnancy please contact an Abilities Services Counselor. The Director of EEO/Compliance is designated as the Title IX Coordinator and Section 504 Coordinator. All inquiries concerning HCC policies, compliance with applicable laws, statutes, and regulations (such as Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504), and complaints may be directed to:

Student Success

Expect to spend at least twice as many hours per week outside of class as you do in class studying the course content. Additional time will be required for written assignments. The assignments provided will help you use your study hours wisely. Successful completion of this course requires a combination of the following:

- Reading the textbook
- Attending class in person and/or online
- Completing assignments
- Participating in class activities

There is no short cut for success in this course; it requires reading (and probably re-reading) and studying the material using the course objectives as a guide.

- Be aware of and comply with academic honesty policies in the HCCS Student Handbook (<https://www.hccs.edu/studenthandbook>)

Sensitive or Mature Course Content

In this college-level course, we may occasionally discuss sensitive or mature content. All members of the classroom environment, from your instructor to your fellow students, are expected to handle potentially controversial subjects with respect and consideration for one another's varied experiences and values.

EGLS3

The EGLS³ (Evaluation for Greater Learning Student Survey System (<https://www.hccs.edu/egls3>)) will be available for most courses near the end of the term until finals start. This brief survey will give invaluable information to your faculty about their teaching. Results are anonymous and will be available to faculty and division chairs after the end of the term. EGLS³ surveys are only available for the Fall and Spring semesters. -EGLS3 surveys are not offered during the Summer semester due to logistical constraints.

Housing and Food Assistance for Students

Any student who faces challenges securing their foods or housing and believes this may affect their performance in the course is urged to contact the Dean of Students at their college for support. Furthermore, please notify the professor if you are comfortable in doing so.

This will enable HCC to provide any resources that HCC may possess.

Student Resources

Tutoring

HCC provides free, confidential, and convenient academic support, including writing critiques, to HCC students in an online environment and on campus. Tutoring is provided by HCC personnel in order to ensure that it is contextual and appropriate. Visit the HCC Tutoring Services (<https://www.hccs.edu/tutoring>) website for services provided.

Libraries

The HCC Library System consists of 9 libraries and 6 Electronic Resource Centers (ERCs) that are inviting places to study and collaborate on projects. Librarians are available both at the libraries and online to show you how to locate and use the resources you need. The libraries maintain a large selection of electronic resources as well as collections of books, magazines, newspapers, and audiovisual materials. The portal to all libraries' resources and services is the HCCS library web page at <https://library.hccs.edu> (<https://library.hccs.edu>).

Supplementary Instruction

Supplemental Instruction is an academic enrichment and support program that uses peer-assisted study sessions to improve student retention and success in historically difficult courses. Peer Support is provided by students who have already succeeded in completion of the specified course, and who earned a grade of A or B.
