What's Exciting About This Course

Besides being a necessary credit for most degree plans, HIST 1301 focuses on skills, practices, and cognizance well outside the purview we commonly consider as History. In this class there will be an emphasis on discussion, communication, critical thought (thinking about 'why' instead of 'what'), and perspective. This is not a traditional History class. Our lectures, assignments, and discussions will be collaborative and/or concept-based. Rarely will the student be required to memorize a date or define a key-term. Instead, you will focus on why your history matters and how your own perspectives change your views on both the past and the present.

My Personal Welcome

I want to personally welcome you to your HIST 1301 Fall 2021 class. By now I think we are getting used to the changes and have learned to 'go with the flow.' Let's each of us do our best to succeed this semester. Also, why not have a little fun along the way?

✓ Course Requirements

Assignments, Exams, and Activities

Type	Weight	Topic	Notes
Essay	200 points	Historical Fiction	Historical fiction is defined as movies and novels in which a story is made up but is set in the past and borrows true characteristics of the time period in which it is set<sup>[1]</sup>. In other words, it is fiction (make believe) that is set, uses, compares, or takes place in history. Some well-known examples of historical fiction include: Gone With the Wind, To Kill a Mockingbird, The Three Musketeers, and The Hunchback of Notre Dame. By the assignment due-date you will write your own short piece of historical fiction (fully cited in MLA, APA, or Chicago style). The minimum requirements for the essay include: 6+ pages minimum, full citation of sources in the paper (a Works Cited is not good enough), proof-read and largely free of grammatical errors. You will be graded on the quality and originality of the work. The Historical Fiction is worth 200 points. <sup>[1]</sup> "historical-fiction." YourDictionary, n.d. Web. 05 July 2018. &lt;http://www.yourdictionary.com/historical-fiction&gt;
Exam	200 points	Midterm	Most of the Midterm questions come from the daily participation submissions.
Group Project	200 points	Debate	On the assignment due date students in the class will participate in a classic debate covering several different historic arguments. This is a group project but you will be individually graded based on your research, preparedness, and presentation.
Essay	200 points	Monograph Analysis	By the assignment due date, you will have read the monograph, Empire of the Summer Moon , completed four quizzes over its content, and submitted an analysis of the book. The quizzes simply check your knowledge of the book. I take the average of all four quizzes and divide it by 2 for a score between 0 - 50. Those points are then added to your score on the written analysis. The analysis is not a summary; instead it is a comprehensive overview of the book's argument and effectiveness. I will provide the question prompts you need to answer in the analysis. The paper is due on the last day of class and is worth 150 points. Together, we take the score on the quizzes and them to the analysis for a final assignment weighing 200 points.
Exam	200 points	Final Exam	Similar to the midterm, most of the exam questions come from the daily participation questions.
Participation	200 points	Daily Participation	This score comes from participating in the lectures. On most class days you will be asked to submit a simple assignment. This submission will count towards your total participation grade. Some examples of the score include: creating a content-related question from the lecture, taking a short reading quiz, explaining a source, etc.

Grading Formula

Grade	Range	Notes

Grade	Range	Notes
Calculating Total Points	0 - 1,000 points	At the end of the semester I drop your lowest major assignment (except for the Debate. The Debate cannot be dropped). Therefore, it is very easy to calculate your Final Point Total and average. Simply total the points from the five highest assignments. For instance: Historical Fiction: 170 Midterm: 190 Debate: 150 Final Exam: 160 Monograph Analysis: 185 Participation: 190 In this case, the Final Exam would be dropped. Remember, you cannot drop the Debate. Your total score would be 895 points. That is an 89.5 average which I would round up to an A in the class.
A	890 - 1000 points
B	790 - 889 points
C	690 - 789 points
D	590 - 689 points
F	0 - 589 points

* Instructor's Practices and Procedures

Incomplete Policy

In order to receive a grade of Incomplete ("I"), a student must have completed at least 85% of the work in the course. In all cases, the instructor reserves the right to decline a student's request to receive a grade of Incomplete.

Incompletes are given only in the rarest of circumstances. They are reserved for students who have completed nearly all of the course but, at the very end, had some major catastrophe, illness, or tragedy. Incompletes are not given as make-ups or extensions.

Missed Assignments/Make-Up Policy

I have very little tolerance for late assignments. Typically speaking, I do not give extensions on assignments nor do I accept late work for a penalty. Still, I understand that you have a busy schedule and, sometimes, life gets in the way. If you are having difficulty in the class and keeping up with the coursework, please contact me ASAP. I am far more lenient when I know there is a problem ahead of time. If you contact me after an assignment is due, you will most likely not get an extension or you will be granted an extension with a large point deduction.

Academic Integrity

Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty are prohibited by HCCS policy. Plagiarism is the use of the ideas or words of another person (either in whole or in part) without crediting the source. Plagiarism amounts to the theft of another person's work and its appropriation as one's own. Students are also prohibited from self-plagiarism or turning in work for one class in another class. Cheating involves fraud and deception for the purpose of violating legitimate testing rules. Cheating includes but is not limited to: copying from another student's test paper, using materials not authorized by the instructor during an exam; collaborating with another student during an exam; knowingly using, buying, selling, etc. whole or part of an un-administered test. Any questions about academic dishonesty should be referred to the Student Conduct section of the College System catalogue. Students caught violating standards of academic honesty will be given an F for the assignment and may be given an F for the course.

Here's the link to the HCC information about academic integrity (Scholastic Dishonesty and Violation of Academic Scholastic Dishonesty and Grievance):

<https://www.hccs.edu/about-hcc/procedures/student-rights-policies--procedures/student-procedures/>
(<https://www.hccs.edu/about-hcc/procedures/student-rights-policies--procedures/student-procedures/>)

Attendance Procedures

The instructor recognizes that virtually no learning takes place when students do not attend class (online or not) regularly, nor when they do not keep up with reading and related course assignments. If you are not interested in attending class regularly or completing assignments, both of which are strong indicators that you are not committed to your own education or to learning more generally, then this class will be incredibly difficult on you. That said, I will not drop any student for lack of attendance, for poor grades, whatever. Asynchronous Online classes have no attendance per se, but regularly using the discussion boards and collaborating with colleagues is expected!

If you stop attending classes after the "Last day to withdraw":

- Academic consequence – grade of "FX" (same impact on your GPA as an "F")
- Financial consequence – required to repay all or a portion of your financial aid

**Future financial aid eligibility may be affected no matter when you withdraw.

Student Conduct

- Be an adult.
- Treat your fellow students as you would wish to be treated.
- We have an open, free-speech classroom. Student views may vary.
- Be respectful.

Instructor's Course-Specific Information

I will do my best to be prompt with returning feedback and responding to student's questions. Please understand that I am not in front of my computer 24/7, though. With very few exceptions, you can expect an email response within 24 hours on weekdays, by Monday during the weekend, and assignments graded within one week from their due date.

Devices

It is an online class. Make sure you have a capable device that can access Canvas and complete the assignments.

There is no requirement for a webcam but you will need a microphone.

Faculty Statement about Student Success

- Please do not wait until the last second to begin your assignments.
- You get out of your education a return on the effort you put in
- History is story-telling. It is supposed to be fun. It is okay to enjoy class.

Faculty-Specific Information Regarding Canvas

This course section will use Canvas (<https://eagleonline.hccs.edu> (<https://eagleonline.hccs.edu>)) to supplement in-class assignments, exams, and activities.

HCCS Open Lab locations may be used to access the Internet and Canvas. For best performance, Canvas should be used on the current or first previous major release of Chrome, Firefox, Edge, or Safari. Because it's built using web standards, Canvas runs on Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS, Android, or any other device with a modern web browser.

Canvas only requires an operating system that can run the latest compatible web browsers. Your computer operating system should be kept up to date with the latest recommended security updates and upgrades.
