Online Learning Management Software:

This is an entirely web-based lecture course that uses Eagle Online. The Eagle Online login page is: https://eagleonline.hccs.edu/login/ldap

You MUST HAVE an HCC email account. It is crucial that you regularly check your HCC email account, or set a rule to send it to your primary email account. I will communicate with you ONLY via this email address (i.e. not via any alternative email addresses you may have). You will be able to email me through our Eagle Online Course page, and it will go through your HCC email address.

Your ‘home’ campus is HCC Online: https://www.hccs.edu/online/
The Student Services page links you to everything you need to know about online courses, especially to the Mandatory Online Orientation, and to the HCC Online Student Handbook: https://www.hccs.edu/online/student-support/

Course description:
(Prerequisite: ENGL 1301 or higher)
This course is a study of the major issues in philosophy and/or the work of major philosophical figures in philosophy. Topics in philosophy may include theories of reality, theories of knowledge, theories of value, and their practical applications (Texas ACGM). It provides a theoretically diverse introduction to the study of ideas, including arguments and investigations about abstract and real phenomena, particularly in the areas of knowledge, ethics, and religion (HCC Course Catalogue). This course stresses the HCC Core Objectives of Critical Thinking, Communication Skills, Personal Responsibility, and Social Responsibility.

HCC CORE CURRICULUM COURSE:
This course satisfies the Philosophy, Language, and Culture component area or the Component Area Option in the HCC Core Curriculum. If you are not sure that you need this course to graduate, please consult with your advisor.
In keeping with the guidelines of the Texas Higher Education Curriculum Board, this course will provide a solid foundation in the following Core Objectives: Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills, Personal Responsibility, and Social Responsibility.
NOTICE: Students who have questions about whether their enrollment in this course will satisfy their degree objectives should immediately see an HCC academic advisor who can review their academic degree plans.

Course Goals:
To examine some of the major thinkers and schools of thought through the history of philosophy, from the ancients through to contemporary authors. We will look at some traditional philosophical problems such as: How do we acquire knowledge? What is consciousness? Do we have free will? – and more. We will identify argument structures and critically examine the arguments proposed for and against particular views, and in the process gain invaluable skills in clear thinking, and understanding complex arguments. The aim is to emerge with sharper critical thinking abilities and excellent analytic skills.

Student Learning Outcomes:
1. Read, analyze, and critique philosophical texts.
2. Demonstrate knowledge of key concepts, major arguments, problems, and terminology in philosophy.
4. Present logically persuasive arguments both orally and in writing.
5. Demonstrate critical thinking skills in evaluation and application of philosophical concepts to various aspects of life.
6. Evaluate the personal and social responsibilities of living in a diverse world.
Learning Objectives

Acquire a broad familiarity with the names of major thinkers, the schools they represent, geographical location, and historical periods.

Learn historically significant questions of philosophy, definitions of special terms, and concepts of knowledge, ethics, and human condition.

Cultivate reading comprehension of philosophical writings.

Distinguish various approaches to interpretation, including conceptual analysis, testing for validity, determining if sound or not sound.

Articulate the relevance of philosophy and philosophical questioning to everyday life.

Consider how philosophy may or may not apply to differing ways of thinking and cultural influences.

Inventory, Summarize, and Assess correlative questions, concepts, and schools of thought found in the history of ideas.

Create and cultivate alternative philosophical positions on presented course content.

Develop coherent arguments for chosen positions, bringing to bear the rules of logic, written expression and disciplined thinking.

Critique chosen positions and adequately Defend against possible objections, both theoretical and applied.

Course Materials:

I will make all of the required readings available via links in Eagle Online to Open Access material. I do, however, recommend buying the following book, as it’s inexpensive and very useful:

HCC Writing Centers: On-Campus Tutoring & help with writing assignments: The Houston Community College Writing Centers provide a student-centered environment where professional tutors support student success for all HCC students. The primary goal of the Writing Centers is to offer free, convenient, and personalized assistance to help students improve their writing at any stage of the writing process required in any courses at HCC. Tutors will also assist students with their job application letters, resumes, and scholarship/transfer essays.

Each session lasts about 30 minutes. Students should bring the professor’s assignment sheet or notes about the requirements, a printed rough draft, their textbook, if necessary & a flash drive.

Consult Find-A-Tutor at https://www.hccs.edu/resources-for/current-students/tutoring/ for Writing Center locations and times. At HCC Writing Centers, each tutoring session becomes a learning experience.

Online Tutoring Assistance: https://hccs.upswing.io/

HCC Library Research & Writing: One of the best resources for research is your own library. Try this link for ideas: https://library.hccs.edu/research_writing

Notes on resources and supplementary reading: I also recommend, for each topic we cover, looking it up on either, or both, of the following online encyclopedias:
The Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy (SEP) [http://plato.stanford.edu/] and the Internet Encyclopedia of Philosophy (IEP) [http://www.iep.utm.edu/]

Also very useful is the following philosophy website: [http://www.philosophypages.com/index.htm] - this site has a dictionary, study guides, history, individual philosophers as well as notes on logic and writing philosophy essays (in study guide section).

Don’t forget to look for resources on the Philosophy discipline page of the Learning Web
[https://learning.hccs.edu/programs/philosophy]

Grading Components:
All assessments will be graded out of 100 points each, and weighted by category towards a final grade.
Your final grade will be calculated as a function of the percentage weights applied to each category, as noted in the second table below.
You will have access to a running total of your final score during the course. BEWARE that this is a calculation only of assessments submitted and graded, including zeros for failures to submit etc.

IP (In Progress) is given only in certain developmental courses. The student must re-enroll to receive credit.
COM (Completed) is given in non-credit and continuing education courses.
FINAL GRADE OF FX: Students who stop attending class and do not withdraw themselves prior to the withdrawal deadline may either be dropped by their professor for excessive absences or be assigned the final grade of "FX" at the end of the semester. Students who stop attending classes will receive a grade of "FX", compared to an earned grade of "F" which is due to poor performance. Logging into a DE course without active participation is seen as non-attending. Please note that HCC will not disperse financial aid funding for students who have never attended class.
Students who receive financial aid but fail to attend class will be reported to the Department of Education and may have to pay back their aid. A grade of "FX" is treated exactly the same as a grade of "F" in terms of GPA, probation, suspension, and satisfactory academic progress.
To compute grade point average (GPA), divide the total grade points by the total number of semester hours attempted. The grades "IP," "COM" and "I" do not affect GPA.

Discussion Board Posts (DPs)

(Addresses SLO 1, 2 & 3): You will be required to do TWO things: 1) respond to a question with a short post of a minimum 200 words, and 2) respond to a classmate’s post with a minimum of 100 words. You can earn a maximum of 7 points per post, and these will accumulate to represent 35% of your grade. You will post to the appropriate discussion via the class website. The post must be completed by the due date and time. Late posts MAY be accepted at the discretion of the instructor. Please contact me BEFORE the post is due to discuss.

Logic Quiz

(Addresses SLO 4 & 5): This quiz will be approximately ten questions in which you will be asked to translate arguments into symbols and/or assess their validity. The quiz is worth 5% of your final grade.

Essay

(Addresses SLO 2, 3, 4 & 5): (Minimum 750 words - you may write more if you wish) You will be required to write an essay, choosing from the questions offered. The essay should be typed, formatted to 12 point font, and you must use MLA Style conventions for citing works (see the Style Guides linked to in Eagle online). I will also post links to sites that have proven very helpful to students for writing essays, and I will provide some other guidance materials. You should let me know if you need extra help with essay writing – I am very happy to help here as it is not easy to write a philosophy paper! But the skills you will acquire in learning how to communicate effectively in writing are invaluable to you in your professional life, so well worth improving. The Essay is worth 30 points or 30% of your final grade. Late Essays MAY be accepted at the discretion of the instructor. Please contact me BEFORE the post is due to discuss. Documentation may be required.

Final Exam

(Addresses SLO 1, 3 & 5): An exam comprised of a series of short and/or long answer questions will be made available online in the Finals week. It will go online the morning of WEDS May 8 and will be due THURS May 9 in the morning. Therefore, you will have 24 hours to complete the exam. You will complete the exam on a Word document that you can close and revisit as many times as you want before uploading it by the due date and time. The Final Exam is worth 100 points, or 30% of your final grade. NO LATE EXAMS WILL BE ACCEPTED.
How to proceed with this course:

- Go to our course page on Eagle Online and make yourself familiar with it. If this is your first online course – don’t stress too much! Just play around with the site, check out how it works for a bit and you will be fine. Just contact me if there is anything you do not understand 😊
- Watch videos on PLAGIARISM if you have not already.
- Post in the “Who We Are” Forum: to get to know each other AND this is what I count to mark you as “present” for the course. You may be dropped if you do not post here.
- For each week of the course, the basic procedure is to do the required reading, which will include Lecture Notes and other readings, and then complete the assessment by the Sunday night of that week, if there is an assessment. There is an assessment task approximately every second week.
- The Calendar and Upcoming Events boxes to the right will alert you to upcoming due dates – keep an eye on these.
- The column on the left of your home page is where you can access all of the Modules, Assignments, Discussions etc. Inside the Modules link, you will find a folder full of Essay Resources and other tools to help.
- Browse the links in the RESOURCES section for hint and advice on essay writing – especially writing for philosophy.
- Be sure to understand what PLAGIARISM is – and do not commit it during this, or any other course.
- Consult the Discussion Post and Essay Rubrics. These tell you what is expected for each form of assessment, and will help you understand the grades you get (and how to aim higher!)

Please communicate with me if you are having problems with the work, or need some extra help – I am here to help you succeed, so let me know EARLY so we can work together on the problem. You can always email me or call me. I am available to talk about philosophy, to offer help and advice about the course, and to help you find ways to get the most out of your studies and to help solve problems that might get in the way of these. So, please don’t hesitate to get in touch – I am online every day and will get back to you within hours, most of the time. (I do make an exception for weekends – during which I may be slower than usual getting back to you, but not more than a day).

Course Schedule:

Please note that this schedule is subject to change; although you will always be informed in adequate time if it does. See schedule at the end of this syllabus.

Pre-course reading: you should have already read this:

If not, go ahead and read it now!
WEEK 1: Introduction

Required reading:
2. Week 1 Lecture Notes (online)

Topics: the point and purpose of philosophy; the method of philosophy, introduction to Plato and Socrates.
Assessment: You MUST post on the Who We Are discussion board. This lets me see whom to count as ‘active’ in the course. If you do not post here, you may be dropped from the course.

Discussion Post #1 (hereafter DP #): Due: Sunday 03/24 by midnight.

WEEK 2: Logic

Required reading:
2. Notes on Logic, Dr. Parker-Ryan. (online)

Topics: An introduction to formal logic: validity and soundness, some argument forms; Informal fallacies and clear reasoning.

Assessment: Logic Quiz: Due: Sun 03/31 by midnight.

WEEK 3: Knowledge

Required reading:
1. Descartes, Meditations 1 & 2 (online)
2. Locke, John (1690), An Essay Concerning Human Understanding (online)
3. Week 3 Lecture Notes (online)

Topics: The Theory of Knowledge: do we have it? If so, how can we be certain? We will look at Descartes Skepticism and his Method of Doubt. Then we turn to Locke: a different view of how we acquire knowledge; The Rationalism-Empiricism divide.

Assessment: DP #2: Due: Sun 04/07 by midnight.

WEEK 4: Mind

Required reading:
1. Descartes, Meditation 6 (online)
2. Turing’s ‘Intelligent Machines’ and Searle’s ‘Minds, Brains, and computers’ (online)

Topics: Philosophy of Mind: we know the brain is made of physical, biological matter, but what about the mind? If the mind is not made of physical matter, then what kind of thing is it? If it is made of physical matter, does it count as a kind of ‘machine’, like a computer?
Assessment: DP #3: Due Sun 04/14 by midnight.

WEEK 5: Review

Assessment: Essay: Due Sun 04/20 by midnight.

WEEK 6: Free Will

Required reading:
1. TBD (online)
2. Week 6 Lecture Notes (online)

Topics: Do we really have freedom of will? Or are we completely pre-determined by a kind of causal chain of events – so that we really have no say?

Assessment: DP #4: Due Sun 04/28 by midnight.

WEEK 7: Ethics
1. Aristotle, The Nicomachean Ethics, W.D.Ross (Trans), on MIT Internet Classics Archive, Book 1 & 2 (online)
2. Week 7 Lecture Notes (online)

Topics: How should be treat others? We explore the classic Aristotelian approach to an ethical life; known as ‘virtue ethics’.

Assessment: DP #5: Due Sun 05/05 by midnight.

WEEK 8: Finals

Assessment: Final Exam (Online) Goes online: Weds 05/08 at 7am, and is due to be uploaded by Thurs 05/09 at 7am. NO LATE EXAMS ACCEPTED.

Student Support
Any student who faces challenges securing their food or housing and believes this may affect their performance in the course is urged to contact the Dean of Students for support. Furthermore, please notify the professor if you are comfortable in doing so. This will enable us to provide any resources that HCC may possess.

The Online Student Handbook contains policies and procedures unique to the DE student. Students should have reviewed the handbook as part of the mandatory orientation. It is the student’s responsibility to be familiar with the handbook’s contents. The handbook contains valuable information, answers, and resources, such as DE contacts, policies and procedures (how to drop, attendance requirements, etc.), student services (ADA, financial aid, degree planning, etc.), course information, testing procedures, technical support, and academic calendars.
PLEASE ALSO REVIEW THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT POLICY ABOUT PLAGIARISM:

Academic Honesty:
The HCC Student Handbook lists cheating, plagiarism, and collusion as scholastic dishonesty. It defines plagiarism as "the appropriation of another's work and the unacknowledged incorporation of that work in one's own written work offered for credit." It defines collusion as "the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing work for credit." Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. A student who is academically dishonest is claiming an advantage not available to other students. The instructor is responsible for measuring each student’s individual achievements and also for ensuring that all students compete on a level playing field. Thus, in our system, the instructor has teaching, grading, and enforcing roles. You are expected to be familiar with HCC’s policy on Academic Dishonesty located at https://www.hccs.edu/about-hcc/procedures/student-rights-policies--procedures/student-procedures/

Pleading ignorance of the rules, including improper documentation (MLA, APA, etc.) is no justification for academic dishonesty.

Students who plagiarize, collude, or cheat may not have an opportunity to resubmit their work and they may receive a grade of 0 for the first assignment, an F in the course for a second assignment, and a report in our Maxient system, which could lead to dismissal from the college. Probation or dismissal from HCC and ALL its several colleges may also result. See Student Handbook. Please be aware that ever-evolving applications exist that detect plagiarism, and your instructor will run your work through them.

Be sure to watch the videos on plagiarism that I have placed on the Resources page of our class web site.

Withdrawal Policies:
HCC Online Students are expected to check in to the course site regularly, and to complete all work by noted due dates. NOTE: It is the responsibility of the student to drop, or officially withdraw from this course. Your instructor will withdraw a student if and only if provided a written request from that student. Additionally, system-wide rules affect withdrawals:

1. Students who repeat a course for a third, or more times, may face a significant tuition/fee increase at HCC and other Texas public colleges and universities.
2. The Texas Legislature passed a law limiting new students (those starting college in Fall 2007) to no more than six total course withdrawals throughout their academic career in obtaining a baccalaureate degree. There may be future penalties imposed.
3. No student may withdraw from a course following the set "last date to withdraw", which is 04/22 usually by 5pm for this course. After that date and time, a student can only be given a grade earned, or an "I" for incomplete. Incompletes must be made up by the end of the following long semester, after which they will automatically change to a grade of "F". Students receiving an “I” for a course are ineligible for graduation until the “I” has been removed from a student’s transcript.

Title IX Discrimination: Houston Community College is committed to cultivating an environment free from inappropriate conduct of a sexual or gender-based nature including sex discrimination, sexual assault, sexual harassment, and sexual violence. Sex discrimination includes all forms of sexual and gender-based misconduct and violates an individual’s fundamental rights and personal dignity. Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex including pregnancy and parental status-in educational programs and activities. If you require an accommodation due to pregnancy please contact an Abilities Services Counselor. The Director of EEO/Compliance is designated as the Title IX and Section 504 Coordinator. All inquiries concerning HCC policies, compliance with applicable laws, statutes, and regulations (such as Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504), and complaints may be directed to:

David Cross - Director EEO/Compliance - Office of Institutional Equity & Diversity
3100 Main - Houston, TX 77266-7517 or Institutional.Equity@hccs.edu (713) 718-8271

Students with disAbilities:
The HCC Accessibility website is located at the following url https://www.hccs.edu/support-services/disability-services/

You will find information about the types of assistance offered to students with special instructional needs on that web page. You will also find contact information for your college’s ADA compliance and accessibility office.

Here is a list of the ADA counselors:
https://www.hccs.edu/support-services/disability-services/ada-counselors/

Campus Carry
At HCC the safety of our students, staff, and faculty is our first priority. As of August 1, 2017, Houston Community College is subject to the Campus Carry Law (SB11 2015). For more information, visit the HCC Campus Carry web page at http://www.hccs.edu/district/departments/police/campus-carry/.

EGLS3:
At Houston Community College, professors believe that thoughtful student feedback is necessary to improve teaching and learning. During a designated time near the end of the term, you will be asked to answer a short online survey of research-based questions related to instruction. The anonymous results of the survey will be made available to your professors and department chairs for continual improvement of instruction. Look for the survey as part of the Houston Community College Student System online near the end of the term.

Course Schedule:
Please note that this schedule is subject to change, although you will always be informed in adequate time if it does. Please see detailed schedule with due dates at the end of this syllabus.
