Prerequisites: Must be placed into college-level reading (or take GUST 0342 as a co-requisite) and be placed into college-level writing (or take ENGL 0310/0349 as a co-requisite). Core Curriculum Course.

A survey course that focuses on the nature of human groups in American and world societies, their social and cultural adaptations, and the impact which various social processes may have on their social organization and social change. (HCCS Catalog). Online courses are the equivalent of on-campus sections of the same course and are transferable.

Goals of the Course

Upon Completion of the course, students should be able to:

-Understand the theoretical, historical, and applied nature of the discipline.

-Understand fundamental quantitative and qualitative techniques to study human group behavior.

-Apply sociological concepts and perspectives to the study of human group life. -Appreciate our socially and culturally diverse society and world.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Apply the three major perspectives in Sociology: Conflict, Functionalism, Symbolic Interaction.

2. Identify the principles of the social science research process.

3. Evaluate the various aspects of stratification as they affect American society and the world.

4. Evaluate the various aspects of the institutions of society as they affect American society and the world.

Instructional Format

This is an online version of SOCI 1301 Introduction to Sociology course listed in the HCCS catalog. The main mode of interaction for teaching and learning will be online. Please remember to keep up with the reading assignment schedule in the syllabus for optimal results.

Please read the semester schedule and the Student Handbook for further information. Students should check their course schedule in the syllabus for keeping up with the reading assignments in the text.

In compliance with the HCC system requirements, the course is designed to fulfill six S.C.A.N.S student competencies. Successful completion of the course work relies very much on the cooperation of both the instructor and the student. Students should complete all reading and written assignment by the stated deadlines (Reading). Reading assignments are given at the end of this syllabus. The nature of the discipline of sociology is such that sensitive and controversial topics will occasionally surface in your reading material. Please bear in mind that the ideas presented in this course do not necessarily reflect the views of your instructor or the institution.

Method of Contact

You are encouraged to contact your instructor in person, via email or by phone to enhance your learning via phone during the semester (Speaking). Ms. Gates is also our contact person.

HCC Policies Governing DE Courses Online

The Distance Education Student Handbook contains policies and procedures unique to the DE student. Students should have reviewed the handbook as part of the mandatory orientation. It is the student's responsibility to be familiar with the handbook's contents. The handbook contains valuable information, answers, and resources, such as DE contacts, policies and procedures (how to drop, attendance requirements, etc.), student services (ADA, financial aid, degree planning, etc.), course information, testing procedures, technical support, and academic calendars. Refer to the DE Student Handbook by visiting this link: http://de.hccs.edu/de/de-student-handbook

Scholastic Integrity

The DE program closely follows the HCCS policies on scholastic integrity. Please refer to HCCS Distance Education Student Handbook for details.

EGLS<sub>3</sub> -- Evaluation for Greater Learning Student Survey System

At Houston Community College, professors believe that thoughtful student feedback is necessary to improve teaching and learning. During a designated time, you will be asked to answer a short online survey of researchbased questions related to instruction. The anonymous results of the survey will be made available to your professors and division chairs for continual improvement of instruction. Look for the survey as part of the Houston Community College Student System online near the end of the term.
