

Hello.

I hope you are doing well.

I am Temitope Oluseyi-Awe, your instructor for this Spring 2019 8Weeks Econ 2301 – Macroeconomics class. The class is 100% online and will start on January 14, 2019 to end on March 10, 2019. The course content is evenly paced to enable you integrate the class into your present work/class schedule. You will interact with the rest of your class through vibrant, topical discussion boards. The primary mode of communication is email - I respond within 24 - 48 hours. The class promises to be an engaging and learner centered one.

The required textbook is:

Principles of Economics by Mateer, Coppock, 2nd Edition.

You will be required to purchase a subscription to the publisher’s online platform through either the course on Canvas or at the college bookstore. Trial access is available. To register and/or purchase the subscription for a $79 price, simply click on the link to the e-book inside your Canvas course and follow the instructions.

If you have any questions ahead of the course start date, feel free to send an email to
