

Biography

William C. Marquart received his Master of Arts degree in English and Egyptology from Oxford. He taught ESL and Linguistics for several years before working in all aspects of residential and commercial construction. He was also involved for several years with several insurance companies as a commercial loan representative. He also had a tax preparation office for twenty years. He was a Certified Financial Planner for thirteen years. In recent years, he has taught all levels of ESL as well as college composition and literature courses at Houston Community College, San Jacinto College and the University of Phoenix.